

Shortened life expectancy benefits

(for working members)

Introduction

If you face a shortened life expectancy, you may be able to withdraw the commuted value of your pension before retirement without having to sever your employment relationship. The commuted value of your pension is the lump sum you would need today to replace your future pension.

Eligibility

To qualify for a shortened life expectancy benefit, you must provide complete medical evidence, from a doctor licensed in Canada, of a life expectancy of less than two years. If you have a spouse, he or she must consent to the withdrawal because a spouse forfeits the right to survivor benefits if you take a shortened life expectancy benefit.

Payment options

Shortened life expectancy benefits can be:

- taken in cash (payable in the form of a cheque or direct deposit to your bank account);
- transferred to an RRSP, up until the end of the calendar year in which you turn age 71;
- transferred to a Registered Retirement Income Fund (RRIF); or
- a combination of these options.

Tax implications

The Income Tax Act (ITA) limits the amount of your lump-sum benefit that you can transfer on a tax-sheltered basis. Any excess amounts are paid in cash.

Tax-sheltered transfers – only a portion of your lump-sum transfer amount will be tax-sheltered. If you choose to transfer funds to an RRSP or RRIF, it doesn't have an impact on your RRSP contribution room (i.e., doesn't affect your existing contribution limit).

Cash – subject to withholding tax (30% for Ontario residents) and may require additional tax payments when you file your income tax return.

Other options to consider

Before applying for any benefit, check with your employer and long-term disability carrier. It's important to ensure you'll continue to qualify for medical and long-term disability benefits if you receive your pension benefits early.

Leaving your funds in the plan

If you decide:

- not to take a shortened life expectancy benefit and die before starting your pension, or
- to opt for your shortened life expectancy benefit and die before receiving payment, your eligible survivor will receive pre-retirement death benefits upon your death.

The order of survivor benefit eligibility for pre-retirement death benefits is your spouse, dependent children, beneficiaries, estate. Here's a comparison of the pre-retirement death benefits your eligible survivor may receive:

Option	Spouse	Beneficiary/estate
Lump sum	Yes (tax sheltered)	Yes (not tax sheltered)
Pension	Yes	No

Other options to consider, cont'd.

For more information, read the fact sheet, Sick and Disability Benefits Overview, and the Survivor Benefits brochure. Both are available on our website at www.otpp.com.

Applying for a disability pension

You may also wish to consider taking a disability pension if you're faced with a shortened life expectancy. Here's a comparison of the two:

Requirement/feature	Disability pension	Shortened life expectancy benefit
Survivor pension provided	Yes	No*
Must terminate employment in education	Yes	No
Must stop receiving benefits under an employer-sponsored long-term income protection program	Yes	No

*The value of the survivor benefit is included in the shortened life expectancy benefit you receive.

There are eligibility rules to qualify for a disability pension. Call us for more information if you're considering this option.

How to apply – Checklist

If you wish to apply for a shortened life expectancy benefit, you must submit the first three items listed below. Any additional documents required depend on your personal situation.

Required documents (all members):

- Application for Withdrawal from the Pension Plan (for teachers)*
- Physician's Statement of Shortened Life Expectancy* (the date the physician, who must be licensed in Canada, signs the statement is the date we use to calculate the value of the benefit)
- Copy of your birth certificate, Canadian passport or Ontario driver's license

Additional documents required...

If you have an eligible spouse:

- Spousal Consent to Pension Withdrawal (for working members)*
- Copy of your spouse's birth certificate, Canadian passport or Ontario driver's license
- Copy of your marriage certificate or Statutory Declaration of Common-law Relationship

If you want to transfer funds to your RRSP or RRIF:

- Direct Transfer Request* form

If you're receiving a CPP disability pension:

- CPP Notice of Entitlement

If someone is assisting you with the application process, include one of the two documents:

- Power of Attorney for Property* – to release your personal information and/or to sign the application on your behalf
- Written authorization – to release your personal information

Please forward all documentation to us as soon as possible to avoid delays in processing your application. If you have any additional questions, please contact us.

If you decide to apply for a shortened life expectancy benefit, use this checklist to ensure your application is complete.

Signature

By signing below:

- I acknowledge that I have been advised to obtain independent financial planning advice before deciding to make this application and thereby terminate my membership in the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan;
- I acknowledge that it is my responsibility to contact my employer and/or LTIP carrier to determine if receiving a shortened life expectancy commuted value payment will affect my employment status or LTIP coverage;
- I understand I will be deemed to have ceased both employment and LTIP coverage for the purposes of plan membership, and that any non-teaching service (i.e., sick leave, LTIP payments) after my deemed cessation date will not create any further entitlement in the plan;
- I understand that no further payments, and/or survivor benefits, will be paid to me or anyone else from the pension plan and that the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan will be discharged from liability by making this payment in accordance with my direction and the Ontario Pension Benefits Act;
- I authorize the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan to contact my employer and collect any relevant information the plan may require for this application; and
- I attest that all the information contained in this application is true.

I apply to withdraw all of the commuted value of my pension from the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan.

Definition of eligible spouse

Your spouse is your married or common-law partner. A common-law partner must have lived with you in a conjugal relationship for:

- at least three continuous years; or
- a shorter period if you're the parents of a child.

A spouse qualifies for survivor benefits as long as he or she is not living separate and apart from the member when the member dies. "Living separate and apart" means you are no longer sharing a spousal relationship (i.e., having joint finances, sharing a conjugal relationship) and intend to terminate your relationship. You can be living separate and apart without a formal separation agreement and/or in the same residence.

A former spouse may also be entitled to a portion of the member's survivor benefits if assigned in a valid separation agreement or court order.

This form may be used by an applicant to transfer the commuted value of pension benefits from the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan (the "plan") – Registration Number 0345785 – to a LIRA, LIF, RRSP or RRIF. For any other type of payment or transfer, contact us for assistance. We cannot process a transfer if this form is not completed correctly. Please refer to the definitions on the next page for explanations of terms used in this form.

Part A – Provide complete information for the applicant. The applicant is the person who is requesting a transfer.

Part B – Indicate the type of transfer being requested by checking box 1, 2 or 3. You must also select the applicable receiving account (LIRA, LIF, RRSP or RRIF). If you're a member, refer to the Termination Option Application we provided to identify your options.

Part C – Provide complete information for the financial institution and receiving account.

Part D – For transfers to a LIRA/LIF only, this part must be completed by the financial institution at which the LIRA/LIF is established.
